Byron Reyes made a presentation about SPARK Acadiana. The program will begin at Edgar Martin this year and will reach 76 students who will participate in physical exercise that will be measured by heart monitors. The expected result is an increase in test scores, attendance, and behavior. The results will be compiled and analyzed as part of a doctoral dissertation by a graduate student of UL Lafayette.

After much discussion, the board members voted unanimously to provide the funds for heart monitors, which will cost $100.00 each. These monitors will be used for the entire school year and in the future years. Shining Light Foundation will provide a check for $7,600.00 to SPARK Acadiana.
